—Howard Carroll, in the New York Times, made Senator Thurman's recent departure for Edrope the occasion of a sketch, with some new points about the old man. His grandfather was a Bapust preacher in Virginis, who concluded to move into a free state from misgivings about slavery in 1819. The boy Thurman left Lynchburg when about six years old, and crossed the mountains with a six-horse wagon, containing the furniture, and a little vehicle to take the people. They stopped at Chillicothe. The negro women they carried along turned out well, but the black men were of no account. Thurman's father taught school in Chillicothe, and the boy went to him as a pupil. Next the father went into the wool manufacture. Thur man's mother was a half sister of Governor Allen, and she taught him his lessons. A French emigrant named Gregorie, who had a pretty daughter, taught Thurman French, and Allen fell in love with the French daughter. Dr. James Webb, the father of President Hayes's wife, lived in Chillicothe, and took young Thurman out hunling often. The first public employment Thurman had was making the tax lists at $1 a day, by which he earned $51. He then went into a land survey in the woods of Ohio and camped out. By the influence of William Allen Thurman was invited by Governor Lucas to be his clerk, and while filling this place at Columbus he studied law with Judge Swayne. Thurman was admitted to the bar in Fayette county, where he lost his first important case. William Allen becoming absorbed in politics, gave his practice to Thurman, and for ten years he rode through four counties on horseback practicing law at the courts. He visited Washington in 1830 on account of bad health, going in a stage coach. He called on Calhoun, who preached him a long yarn on the necessity of reading the history of the Greek republic. Thurman ing yarn on the necessity of reading the

-Clara Belle writes of the remarkable contrast furnished by Bernhardt and Columbier in their decollette dresses: 'Bernhardt's front was a stretch of skin "Bernhardt's front was a stretch of skin under which the bones, cords and other machinery were plainly visible—the acme of scrawniness. Columbier made a most audacious display of h fat person—an exhibition absolutely disgusting in its braz n courseness. I can not in modesty describe it further than to say that she might just as well have worn no dress at all so far as the covering of her bosom was concerned. If there had been any babies present they assuredly would have cried for her."

They make their own rate, and one is appointed parish constable, another overseer, and so on. They are continually quarrelling, and were recently charged with having savagely assaulted one another. They used agricultural implements in the affray. The four brothers were sent to jeil for two months for assaulting one another, so that the whole parish is in jail.

The Popular Demand. The Popular Bennand.

So great has been the popular demand for the celebrated remedy Kidney Wort, that it is having an inmience sale from Maine to California. Some have found it inconvenient to prepare it from the dry compound. For such the proprietors now prepare it in liquid form. This can be procured at the druggists. It has precisely the same effect as the dry, but is very concentrated so that the dose is much smaller.—Lowell Mail.

The owners of this property are Joseph Thompson, Joseph Thompson, Jr. Robert Toombs, and J. Thomas Glenn. Jesse W. Culpeper is the agent of these owners for renting the property. We find that the Beg Bonanza, on Decatur street, is notoriously used for the purpose of gaming. The pionerty is owned by Thomas G. Healey. We do not know to whom this building is reuted, but the records of this court show that said building is used by G. H. Kneeland, Al Bronk, Jack Waters and others for the purpose of gaming, and the fact is generally known in our city.

We find that there are two buildings on Mariesta street, Nos. 14 and 16, used for the purpose of gaming. These buildings are leased to Robert Dohme, who sub lets them to A. W. Crawford and John W. Kimbro. The building No. 16, to A. W. Crawford, it is called the Girl of the Period and the one to John W. Kimbro, No. 14, is called the Cosmos. The recent severe winter weather has left curcounty roads and bridges in a very unsatisfactory condition. The county commissioners are urged to put them in good order as soon as possible. The prominent roads should be macadamised as soon as practicable—giving preference to the road leading to the water-works. And it is suggested that when county bridges require to be rebuilt, the new ones should be of substantial and permanent character—temporary structures being often unsafe and requiring constant repairs. District road commissioners should be empowered to summon road hands for necessary work as occasion requires, the entire work of said hands not to exceed five days annually, and said district commissioners should be authorized to promply fine delinquents, the fines collected to be expended in repairing the roads of said district. Said road commissioners being required to report on the first Mondays of January and July to the commission.

Without any solicitation on my part, I take pleasure in stating that I have used your Medicated Feed on a very poor cow of mine that has been under the weather for some time, with the best results. She is now improving very fast in looks, flesh and milk, and the milk is much increased in quantity and better in quality; and I can say without any hesitation, that there is nothing better, in my opinion, for improving the condition of cows, in flesh and milk, than Shoenfeld's Medicated Feed.

Messectfully.

I have such confidence in your Stock Feed that I will add my textmony to the may be gothers you have. I gave some to my hogs which had refused to eat, and not knowing myself had ever seen a disease similar to cholera, but neither my neighbors nor myself had ever seen a disease exactly like it, but knew it was not the cholera, although times as bad or worse. I got anckage of the Stock Feed, and by holding the hogs, I got about three or four doses in them, and in less than two days, they commenced eating, and in a week, were cholera. I have never kitomy to announce to the public in general that on the 21st of April last, I bought a cow and calf of Mr. D. T. Pinks-say the same thing about it. Yours respectfully,

L. A. THOMAS.

Eufaula, Ala, February 15, 1879.

This is to certify that I have full knowledge of the ingredients in Mr. Shoenfeld's Stock Feed, and am satisfied that it is a happy and safe combination for all purposes for which it is recommended. It contains no hurtful element. Good results will always follow when used according to directions. This I know from experience in its use among my own stock.

W. H. THORNION, M.D.

I take the liberty to announce to the public in general that on the 21st of April last, I bought a cow and calf of Mr. D. T. Pinkston, with the same to the butcher, but was advised by some friend to purchase a sack of Shoenfeld's Medicated Stock Feed, which I am using now with the best result. My cow will cat all slops and gives 1½ gallons of milk, with a good prospect of increasing.

We take pleasure in certifying to the certificate of Dr. W. H. Thoruton.

As soon as the professor had completed the reading he was surrounded by hundreds of ladies who, in feeling terms, expressed their gratitude for the excellent manner in which he had aided Whitehall, up which it marched to Hunter and thence to the cemetery.

The steps leading to the eastern side of the monument were made the rostrum, and from here the dense crowd was addressed. Around this silent tribute to the noble dead, whose lives were given that it neight be built, the ladies congregated. The Rev. Dr. Heidt opened the exercises with a fervent prayer, in which he feelingly referred to the deeds of those buried in Oakland cemetery, and expressed thanks at the burial of the ill feeling aroused by the war in which they were alsin. His prayer was closed by a petition for guidance for those in authority. Then Mayor English arose and introduced Prof. McAdoo. Prof. McAdoo is an eiderly gentleman whose height gives him an imposing appearance. His beard and hair are white and with a voice little effected by his sage, he read the poem prepared by himself for this occasion. He is a cuttizen of Knoxville, where he is respected highly for his many virtues. In a calm, clear tone the poem was read and is as follows:

Once more the unit stream of the days has borne.

Yesterday was the 62d anniversary of the order of Odd Fellows, and the day was duly observed by the various lodges in the city. At 2 o'clock a procession was formed at the hall of Central lodge, corner of Whitehall and Alabama and proceeded to the state capitol, headed by the post band. At the capitol the Odd Fellows assembled in the hall of the house of representatives, while the spectators and band took possession of the gallery. The usual anniversary exercises were then had, interspersed with music by the band. When the time arrived for the oration Mr. J. K. Thrower introduced Honwilliam J. Winn, of Cherokee lodge, who had been chosen orator of the day. Mr. Winn delivered a beautiful and appropriate speech on the first organization of the order, its alms, successes and prospects, and was more than once intercupted by the appliance of his suddence.

At the close of Mr Winn's address Mr. F. L. Green recited a poem which he had prepared, giving some official statistics of the order. His poem was quite lengthy, but was listened to with evident enjoyment by the audience.

After the exercises the procession reformed and returned to their lodge room. nee more the gulf stream of the days has born Life's solemn bark to sal Memorial Day! The passage of the temperanee resolutions in troduced by Dr Nunnally has excited more debate than any other subject brought before this body. There were many good and true men who be lieved it not sound policy to go before the legislature and ask anything at their hands. With the selection of the holy Sabbath, both sides were prepared to come together en some plane where unantimous action could be had. On motion of Rev W L. Kilpatrick he Nunnally resolutions were reconsidered, and rejerred to a committee. The chair appointed H D D straton, J G Gibeon, D E Burlier and J G Ryals as that committee, and on motion W L Kilpatrick and E R Carswell, Jr, were added.
